

Snowflake Symphony

Words and music by Timothy Sherlock

♩. = 50

p

Red.

7

Unison

p

Lit-tle wa-ter drop, fall-ing from the sky, cush-ioned by the wind,

p

Red.

12

lift-ed up so high. With the win-ter chill breath-ing on its face, danc-ing a-round mak-ing

p

16

pat-terns of lace. Lit tle wa - ter drop, fall-ing from the sky,

Drip drop... Drip drop...

p

Drip drop... Drip drop. With the win-ter chill cush-ioned by the wind, lift-ed up so high. With the win-ter chill breath-ing on its face, danc-ing a-round mak-ing pat-terns of lace.

breath-ing on its face, danc-ing a-round mak-ing pat-terns of lace.

mf Jew-els of light float-ing up in the sky, ev-er bright. Ne-ver seen such a mf Jew-els of light, sky, ev-er bright.

mf

Red.

29

mag-i-cal sight, this win-try ma-jes-ty.

...this win-try ma-jes-ty.

Pedal sim

33

mf One of a kind, each one made of the per-fect de-sign, Cry-stals chim-ing in mf One of a kind, per-fect de-sign, in

mf

Pedal sim

37

Dance-like

time to make this snow-flake sym-pho-ny.

time to make this snow-flake sym-pho-ny.

p